

I just purchased an xm satellite system last week. I drive a truck and I find the instant traffic and weather information very helpful in planning my trip, or to make any adjustments due to traffic or weather problems that might arise. This is a service that I pay for and have the right to use, and I would appreciate the government staying out of free enterprise.